Elza's Mediterranean Roasted Bronzini

PAREVE

Prep 5 min Cook 10 min Total 15 min Serves 2

Preparation

Ask your fishmonger to clean, debone and butterfly your fish for you!

1. Preheat oven to 500 degrees.
2. Place the fish on a sheet pan. Open up the fish. Coat the flesh with 1 teaspoon of olive oil and salt and pepper.
3. On the bottom half of the fish, spread the crushed garlic and red pepper flakes. Layer the basil on next, followed by 3 lemon slices.
4. Close the fish back up and with a knife, score the skin of the top of the fish 3 times with a sharp knife. (This will prevent the fish from curling up.)
5. Coat the outer skin with the remaining teaspoon of olive oil. Lightly salt and pepper the skin.
6. Roast the fish for about 10 minutes. The flesh should flake but still be moist and the skin should be crisp.

Ingredients

- 1 whole branzino (or other mild white fish) — cleaned, deboned, and butterflied
- 2 tsp olive oil — divided
- 3 lemon — thinly sliced into rounds
- 4 fresh basil leaves
- 1 tsp fresh garlic — crushed
- 1 pinch crushed red pepper
- salt and pepper

Instructions

1. Ask your fishmonger to clean, debone, and butterfly the fish for you!
2. Preheat the oven to 500°F.
3. Place the fish on a sheet pan and open it up. Coat the flesh with 1 teaspoon of the olive oil, and season with salt and pepper.
4. On the bottom half of the fish, spread the crushed garlic and crushed red pepper. Layer the basil on next, followed by the lemon slices.
5. Close the fish back up. With a sharp knife, score the skin on top 3 times — this keeps it from curling up.
6. Coat the outer skin with the remaining teaspoon of olive oil, and lightly season the skin with salt and pepper.
7. Roast for about 10 minutes, until the flesh flakes but is still moist and the skin is crisp.
8. If you like, drizzle a tiny bit more olive oil over the finished fish and serve.
